ABOUT THE ARTIST

Francis Edward Sweet demonstrated his artistic talents at an early age. He began his self initiated art training while still in grade school. Although his earliest painting efforts were in oil, and though he remains partial to the medium today, Francis is equally proficient in scratchboard. An undaunted devotion to his work over the span of many years has yielded a unique refinement and mastery of media that are the trademarks of his wildlife paintings today.

Fran's award winning work has been exhibited at the most prestigious exhibitions including the Leigh Yawkey Woodson Art Museum: "Birds In Art" exhibition, and "Wildlife: The Artist's View." Fran is a member of the Society of Animal Artists and recently won the "Award of Excellence" at their annual juried exhibition for his scratchboard piece "The Stretch."

ABOUT THE PAINTING

With a heart shaped face and pleasing colors, the barn owl is definitely one of the most beautiful owls in the world and has made painting this raptor a wonderful experience.

With this painting I wanted to say: look at this awesome creature and look quickly, for in an instant it will be gone from view.

Publisher's Note: This painting was selected for display at the Leigh Yawkey Woodson Museum "1989 Birds in Art Show," and subsequent national tour.
